

Lowee's Group Tours Presents...

The Garden Series with George Weigel Home-Grown Great Gardens... and a Little Wine Friday, July 24, 2015

Garden columnist George Weigel will be on board to talk gardening and answer questions on the way to and from these outstanding Summer attractions.

Itinerary

7:00 AM Depart Stauffer's of Kissel Hill, Mechanicsburg.
7:30 AM Depart Weis Markets Linglestown Road
Our trips normally take us through top public and private gardens in the mid-Atlantic region and beyond. But the Harrisburg area has some superb home-grown private gardens, too. These are some of the best that George has encountered and written about. See them first-hand on this full day of garden-hopping through the landscapes of some of our own home-grown uber-gardeners. The itinerary includes: Elvis impersonator Brad Crum's garden railway with 1,000 feet of track, plus his Master Gardener wife, Carol's, perennials and raised vegetable garden; a 6-acre private arboretum with more than 1,700 trees and shrubs built by Enders retirees Dave and Belinda Sheetz; the pumpkin patch where Paul and Cheryl Fulk grow some of America's biggest pumpkins (some weighing nearly a ton); the Lower Swatara Twp. home garden of Joe and Norma Mateer, who have a huge labyrinth in their backyard plus a multi-level water feature and numerous great trees, and the Colonial Park suburban homescape of Dr. Kevin Kelly, whose plant selection and design acumen earned him a 2014 Gardening and Greening Award from the Pa. Horticultural Society. Lunch will be at Halifax's Armstrong Valley Winery, where we'll also take a winery tour and do some sampling.
